Driveable RV Vehicle Inspection

Pre-Arrival Checklist

Below is a list of tasks you must complete in order to have your RV qualify for Outdoorsy Insurance, and before the arrival of your renter:

Complete Exterior Cleaning

Just like you would not expect to rent a dirty car, your renters do not expect to rent a dirty RV. Make sure that the exterior of your RV has been thoroughly cleaned before your renter's arrival. Remember, the cleaner your RV, the better your review will be.

Complete Interior Cleaning

The same goes for the interior of the RV. Renters expect a hotel room that is clean upon check-in and your renter will have the same expectations. Make sure that the interior of your RV has been meticulously cleaned before the arrival of your guests.

Tire inspection

Give every single tire a thorough inspection. This includes (especially) the interior tires on dual wheel units. Keep in mind that tires rot from the inside out. Whatever damage you see on the outside is far worse on the inside.

Outdoorsy Insured RVs must undergo a tire inspection before and after each Rental and at a minimum of no less than every 90 days. Outdoorsy insurance requires at least 50% tread on tires in order to maintain eligibility on the Outdoorsy insurance program.

Check tires for:

Wear	No damage	Slight damage	Heavy damage
Cuts	No damage	Slight damage	Heavy damage
Tread depth
Propane	No damage	Slight damage	Heavy damage
Proper Inflation	No damage	Slight damage	Heavy damage
Bulges	No damage	Slight damage	Heavy damage

Never allow a rental to occur if there is an unresolved tire issue. Any tires in question must be replaced. Do not rent your RV or travel trailer if its tires are old. #1 cause of RV and travel trailer accidents is tire failure. So please be extremely diligent in maintaining the quality of your tires. Thank you.

Brake Inspection

Your brakes must be inspected every 90 days and must be serviced in accordance with your manufacturer's suggested maintenance schedule. Please check your owner's manual for the scheduled maintenance periods.

Routine maintenance

You must adhere to a regular maintenance schedule for your RV or travel trailer. If you do not already, you must begin this routine maintenance schedule prior to the arrival of your guests. Take your RV or travel trailer to a dealership or service professional and have it serviced.

Before the arrival of your renters you must check all fluid levels in your RV.

Oil	Full	Moderately full	Empty
Brake fluid	Full	Moderately full	Empty
Generator Oil	Full	Moderately full	Empty
Radiator Fluid	Full	Moderately full	Empty
Transmission Fluid	Full	Moderately full	Empty
Windshield Washer Fluid	Full	Moderately full	Empty

Signals check

Before the arrival of your renters you must check all lights and signals on your RV or travel trailer.

- Driving Lights: Pass / Fail
- Head Lights: Pass / Fail
- High Beam Lights: Pass / Fail
- Rear Driving Lights: Pass / Fail
- Brake Lights: Pass / Fail
- Front Turn Signals: Pass / Fail
- Rear Turn Signals: Pass / Fail

Systems & features check

tures Check Before the arrival of your renters you must check all auxiliary features and systems on your RV or travel trailer. Examples:

- Generator Check: Pass / Fail
- Awning Check: Pass / Fail
- Slide-Out Check: Pass / Fail
- Refrigerator/Appliances Check: Pass / Fail

Test drive

Before the arrival of your renter you must take your RV or travel trailer on a test drive to check for any observable issues and to ensure that the unit is ready for travel. Be sure to drive the unit at a range of speeds, from highway driving to residential driving. Be attentive for any noises, vibrations, smells, or other signals that there is an issue with the unit. Do not allow a rental to occur if you suspect any type of problem with your unit.

Paperwork ready

Before the arrival of your renters, you can also have necessary paperwork printed out and ready. This includes your Rental Agreement, Outdoorsy Terms & Conditions, Departure Form, Liability Waiver Form, as well as any additional contracts or forms you will want signed.

In the event that a claim needs to be filed, you will be required to have the following documents:

- Pre-trip and post-trip photos
- 90-day inspection forms
- Signed RV departure form
- Signed RV Return form

Pre-trip photos taken

Before the arrival of your renters, or during the key exchange, take photos of the exterior and interior condition of your RV. This includes your tires, roof, mirrors, and any other photos you deem necessary. Again, you will need these to submit any claims.

Adequate time set aside for walkthrough and send out

Your renter should never feel rushed when they come to pick up your RV or travel trailer. Be sure to schedule adequate time on the day of departure for a thorough walk-through, proper instructions, a test drive, and time to answer all questions and handle paperwork.
